STEEL WORKERS PAY VISIT TO WHITE HOUSE

Fail To See Roosevelt But Will Call Again Today

Washington, June 7.—(P)—A dozen grim-faced steel workers visited the white house today to "ask President Roosevelt if 300,000 steel workers have got to strike" to procure what they contended was the guarantee for collective bargaining embodied in the national recovery act.

The workers, calling themselves the Committee of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, did not see the president.

They were received by Marvin H. McIntyre, secretary of the president and after a 20-minute talk with him left.

See President Today

"We're going to see the president tomorrow," William J. Long, a Weirton Steel company worker, told reporters.

"Were you assured of that?" he was asked.

"We weren't assured of anything," Long said, but expressed certainty they would talk with the president tomorrow.

The white house visit of the workers climaxed a day of conferences between workers, NRA officials, including Hugh S. Johnson, the administrator, and Secretary Perkins.

The meeting with Miss Perkins and Edward F. McGrady, assistant NRA administrator for labor, showed evidence of discord. The group, led by William J. Spang, a Duquesne, Pa., worker, emerged from Miss Perkins' office to say they were "through" with her.

With the threat of a strike growing more acute, momentarily Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, where is located many of the big steel plants, flew to Washington to confer with Miss Perkins.

The Pennsylvania executive said as he left the conference that he was unable to predict whether a strike would be called.

The failure of the workers committee to see Mr. Roosevelt led to speculation whether the chief executive might prefer to postpone talks with workers until Mike F. Tighe, international president of the steel unions, reaches the capital tomorrow. All groups could then be summoned to the white house.

An assertion that congress was "failing" was couched in a statement by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, with a declaration that "the autocratic attitude of the representatives of the steel corporations constitutes a challenge to the nation and to congress."

Green said in a statement that congress, pushing toward adjournment, should pass labor legislation, including the Wagner industrial disputes bill and the Connally 30-hour week bill.

A delegation of workers from McKeesport, Pa., headed by Watson McKee, secretary of the chamber of commerce of that city and chairman of the national compliance board of McKeesport, arrived with a denial that they represented the companies and a protest against the proposed strike Johnson arranged to see them.

McKee, talking to reporters, took issue with a statement by Pinchot that the steel mill operators were leaning for conflict. He said "I'll eat all the machine guns and barbed wire Governor Pinchot can find."

In response to this Pinchot said: "I am so used to having my statements challenged it no longer makes any difference to me."

FEAR DREADED BLACK HAND AT WORK AGAIN

Gary, Ind. Man Killed, Two Chicagoans Wounded

Chicago, June 7.—(P)—Police tonight professed to see the shadow of the dreaded "Blackhand" in the slaying of a Gary, Ind., politician and the wounding of two men in Chicago.

Slain was Thomas Colosimo, 50, a cousin of the late "Big Jim" Colosimo, Chicago cafe man and power in the city's underworld. Colosimo was shot down on Gary's crowded streets today by three assassins firing from an automobile. He was a big influence among the Italian element politically in the Calumet region. His killers speeded Chicago-ward.

A few hours later in Chicago Nunzio Russo, 39, wealthy food importer and manufacturer of spaghetti, sat in a barber chair next door to his plant getting a haircut.

Suddenly, two men appeared in the door of the barber shop. The gunmen fired a half dozen shots and fled. Russo toppled from the chair critically wounded. A barber next to his chair, Louis Pierpaoli, 25, fell with a bullet above his heart.

In the shooting police were unable to obtain witnesses who could give good reasons why the men were targets of the underworld—unless they whispered, it was the blackhand.

Charles Coccione, 37, proprietor of the barber shop next door to offices of Russo and Company, one of the largest importing and macaroni manufacturing concerns in the city, said two men suddenly appeared in the doorway, fired six shots and fled.

He said it was rumored that threats had been made against Russo, son of A. Russo, Glencoe, and police started an investigation to determine if he were the target of extortions.

As Russo was carried half-conscious from the shop he murmured two or three times: "Watch out for those papers." The words, police said, were a mystery to them.

Russo said he knew of no motive for the shooting. His home in suburban Wilmette was damaged by a nitro-glycerine explosion in 1931 with $35,000 damage.

THREE SLAYERS PAY PENALTY IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Killed Derelict For His $2,000 Life Insurance

Ossining, N. Y., June 7.—(P)—Three members of a murder syndicate who killed a derelict for $2,000 insurance died in the electric chair tonight.

The fourth member of the syndicate, scheduled to die with them, was granted a last minute reprieve until vital issues before Germany is back with the fall of Germany.

Favor Germany.

The Associated Press learned the compromise provides specifically for negotiations by governments for the return of Germany to the conference.

Although the nature of the agreement was not fully revealed, it was said to be a compromise between the proposal of Arthur Henderson, president of the conference, for an adjournment while political differences are cleared up, and that of Barthou for the conference to go ahead with certain studies.

Favor Germany's Return.

The Associated Press learned the compromise provides specifically for negotiations by governments for the return of Germany to the conference.

The negotiations will have the approval of the conference and in a sense will be conducted in its name.

It was arranged that the conference will continue technically, but it is expected not to seek decisions on vital issues before Germany is back with the fall of Germany.

Everything hinges upon Germany's return, to which statesmen are confidently looking forward.

It was understood France made big concessions in order to save the conference. Barthou and other French delegates were said to be in a conciliatory mood.

Marino Smiles.

As he entered he smiled and nodded to the assembled witnesses, seemingly at ease. His attitude contrasted sharply with that of Kreisberg.

The current was sent into Marino's body at 10:15 and five minutes later he was dead.

Frank Pasqua, 24, was serious and pale when he entered the death chamber on the arm of the Catholic chaplain. He said nothing was strapped in the chair at 10:22 and the latter came out of the conference with a smile on his face.

It was understood that Foreign Commissar Litvinoff of Soviet Russia and Foreign Ministers Edward Benes of Czechoslovakia and Nicholas Titulescu of Rumania, who also are staying at the hotel where the meeting was held, were fully informed of the provisional agreement.

Those present at the discussion were Ambassador Norman H. Davis, Hugh Wilson, ambassador to Switzerland, and Ferdinand L. Mayer, counselor of the American embassy in Brussels, representing the United States; Barthou, Francois Pietri, and Louis Albert and Rene Massigl, representing France; Capt. Anthony Eden and William Strang for Great Britain.

Francois Pietri, one of the French delegates at the gathering, which agreed on the program, said Norman H. Davis, chief United States delegate, has rendered a big service to everybody in his part of the negotiations.

MILK WORKERS STRIKE

Racine, Wis., June 7.—(P)—One hundred thirty employees of the Holm Malted Milk company, after using up the raw material on hand so there would be no spoilage, walked out on strike today demanding union recognition and wage increases. A. J. Horlick, president, said it was the first labor trouble in the 60 years of the firm's history. All workers except the office force joined in the walk-out. There was no picketing.

"I'm innocent," said Murphy, a former bartender. His joy at his reprieve was tempered by the thought of the others. Frank Pasqua, an undertaker; Daniel Kreisberg, a fruit dealer, and Anthony Marino, a former speakeasy owner.

CONFIRM STUDEBAKER

Washington, June 7.—(P)—The Senate today confirmed John W. Studebaker of Iowa, as the new United States Commissioner of Education.

Play Major Roles in G.O.P. Drive

Two leaders who play major roles in shaping the destiny of the Republican party are shown here at the national committee sessions in Chicago. Charles D. Hiles of New York, left, headed the committee which drafted the party's 1934 program. George F. Getz of Chicago, right, is national treasurer, and already has obtained enough pledges to wipe out the $206,000 party deficit.

EXPLOSION IN HOLD OF SHIP KILLS THREE

Men Were Repairing Oil Tanker In Dry Dock

Philadelphia, June 7.—(P)—An explosion in the hold of the Atlantic Refining company oil tanker, W. D. Anderson, late today killed three workmen, injured at least fourteen others, and badly damaged the ship in its drydock.

The men were repairing the vessel in a drydock in the Kensington section of the city. Police said the blast apparently was caused by fumes in the hold becoming ignited from an acetylene torch.

The dead were Frank (Yankee) Smith, of Philadelphia, a member of the tanker's crew; John McColl, yard superintendent at the Kensington shipyard, and Irving Rickenbach, his assistant.

The explosion tore a large hole in the port side of the prow, set the ship and dock afire, shattered windows in several nearby windows and threw workmen from a scaffold alongside the ship. Other workmen trapped in the hold were rescued by firemen and sailors.

A flying steel plate, which the workmen were placing on the tanker, killed two of the men.

One dismembered body was picked up in the yard of the American Can company, 100 feet from the scene of the blast.

The tanker, recently returned from Texas, was delivered to the yards for a rush overhauling this morning. Police said acetylene torches were used to burn out rivets holding plates to the vessel's ribs.

Fletcher, arriving from his home in Greencastle, Pa., to take the chairmanship, told the committee that the new party platform written yesterday is a banner the G.O.P. can take into congressional seats in the fall.

It shall be our duty to focus attention on the unsound measures which have been rushed through in Washington," he said. "The contest is one of principle rather than personalities."

Although it had been announced that Fletcher was here to meet the committee and lay political plans, as he did later in the day and would not make a "keynote" address, the new chairman did, with a minutes notice, make a national radio broadcast on party principles.

"We start with a clean slate, a united party and a determination to fight all along the line," he said.

A Jag For Bossy

Milk consumers in Peoria are wondering just how much kick they are going to get out of the cream in their coffee since the distillers have started giving the refuse left after grain is made into whiskey to dairymen to feed their cows. The state health authorities stopped the distillers from dumping the refuse into the Illinois river, and not knowing what else to do, they began giving it to dairymen.

W. W. McLaughlin, state Director of Agriculture, finds there is no law to stop the practice, unless the cows are affected and the milk is found to be dangerous to public health. Samples of the milk are being taken, and if there are found to be injurious elements therein, Bossy will get no more "mash."

In the days before prohibition, distillers bought cattle and fed them on the market which might again be a way of solving the problem of disposing of the refuse from the plants. The animals were kept in stalls and the "mash" was fed to them in large quantities. They grew fat in a short time, and the beef acquired a flavor which caused the cattle to bring a special price on the market.

A Gift From Haiti

President Roosevelt has suggested to Congress that it grant him authority to present to the government of Haiti the naval and marine barracks, machine shops and other buildings and equipment the American forces will leave on the island when they vacate next October. The President thinks it would be the fitting thing to do, inasmuch as the Haitian Garde or constabulary, which the marines have trained, is in need of quarters and equipment. The gift would have a value of about $100,000.

The departure of the marines will terminate a special relation of nearly 20 years between the United States and Haiti. During that time the Americans have endeavored to see that orderly government was maintained. The occupancy began when Haiti became so hopelessly involved in debt that foreign supervision of her customs collections was necessary. The island was torn by revolution, and foreign investments were imperiled.

Haiti is glad to have the occupation terminated, and the United States, with her new policy of non-interference with her neighbors, is glad to have the marines come home. The Roosevelt administration has been marked by a withdrawal of American domination from several small nations, much to the gratification of the peoples involved, and with the result that our prestige in South America has been strengthened. Always suspected of imperialistic designs, this country is at last demonstrating clearly that the suspicions are unfounded.

If Congress decides to let the President make this gift to Haiti, that will be another feather in our diplomatic cap. The added good will gained for America will be well worth $100,000, and perhaps more. In cold dollars and cents counted in foreign trade, it will be a good investment in giving an impetus to the better feeling toward this country. It will be worth even more.

Being Buried Alive

Several years ago we heard a chauvinist lecturer on psychology declare that one of the greatest of human fears is that of being buried alive. After thinking over the possibilities of such an experience, we were inclined to agree with him. That fear is not as prevalent now as it was when older people talked so much about death and the grave where small children could overhear them. The half-formed impressions of childhood in those days were often anything but pleasant. It was often the custom among the elders to discuss morbid subjects, and woe unto the youngster who overheard too much just previous to retiring for the night.

But such fears evidently did not bother a Shamanist priest of India, who recently permitted himself to be buried alive by his followers. He claimed to be 157 years old, and had been serving in the temple for more than fifty years. He decided that he had outlived his usefulness, and according to his religion, once a man ceases to be useful, it was time for him to depart this life.

Orionians might not consider this strange proceeding out of line; but to us in the west it seems the cultist chose a rather dramatic way of committing suicide, and that his followers staged a rather naive murder. We can't make much else out of the affair.

The Easy-Money Town

There is one city in the United States that would never have realized, except from its newspapers, that there was a business depression these last few years. Its name is Washington, known for corporate and fiscal purposes as the District of Columbia. To its citizens the hard times oratory of statesmen on Capitol Hill must have seemed more than usual, mere talking in the air.

For Washington has been prosperous. Its prosperity continued through the darkest days. Tax rates remained low. There has been plenty of money circulating. It has had no budget difficulties. No matter how far the federal budget has come from balancing, the Washington budget has always balanced. It is balanced by the simple and pleasant process of Congress, once a year, sitting as a city council, appropriating enough millions from the national treasury to meet what would otherwise have been deficits running from $5,000,000 to $12,000,000.

Washington always pays a dear price, though, for its easy life. It is deprived of civic rights. Its people have no vote. It is governed by Congress. It gives its independence for a mess of easy money.

A good many cities would hesitate to accept Uncle Sam as a permanent lodger, on these terms, in spite of his fine buildings and fat treasury. And as a matter of fact, they don't need to. More and more Uncle is helping them, too, with their expenses when they get into a hole.

SO THEY SAY!

Every clubwoman and every professional woman, old or young, would gladly chuck her career to marry a good man.

—Mrs. Lenora Z. Meder, president, Chicago Business and Professional Women's Club.

Criticism, however, necessary, is always an ungracious art.

The traditional modes of securing a living, shot through with unfair practices and unbridled profiteering, have broken down.

—The Rev. Andrew S. Gill of Cleveland.

We can't go fifty-fifty between the New Deal and the old. We must either go on with the New Deal or abandon it.

—Edward A. Eliene, Boston merchant.

The so-called brotherhood of nations is still a long way from being international minded and in consequence world peace is by no means in sight.

Nation Owes All To Fighters

From the Columbus Dispatch.

Woodrow Wilson, than whom no American voiced more eloquently a protestation of war and all its works, once put this question to a battalion of young cadets who gathered about his train in a midwestern town.

"Why is it that a mother or wife hangs over the fireplace or puts in some niche of honor, the rifle or the sword of the beloved soldier who fell on the field of battle?

"Why instead does she not hang there the pick, the hoe, the typewriter that he used in days of peace?

"I venture to say it is because the pick and hoe are instruments he used to advance his own interests while the sword and rifle represent the nobility of sacrificial service for others."

There is a growing tendency in these days of miasanthropy and cynicism to survey with a touch of patronizing pity the graves of fallen valor, and while saluting their courage to question their intelligence. While we should continue to preach with solemnity the futility and folly of war, let us never forget the fate from which the sacrifice of the heroes we honor saved our republic. But for them our country might be like Europe, a collection of small nations, each frontier bristling with fortifications and poisoned with bitter animosities.

May we thank Almighty God that they gave fulfillment to Lincoln's beautiful prophecy. "The mystic chords of memory stretching from every battlefield and patriot grave to every living heart and hearthstone all over this broad land will yet swell the chorus of the Union when they are again touched, as surely they will be by the better angels of our nature."

Confronted with this noble achievement let cynicism hang its head and gratitude repeat O'Hara's great tribute:

On fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents are spread
And glory guards with solemn round
The bivouac of the dead.

From the Washington Star.

"Have you made your mark in congressional procedure?"

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum.

"I have at least gone on record with a question mark."

South Jacksonville

Changes Liquor Law

The village board of South Jacksonville made drastic changes in the village liquor ordinance at the meeting Wednesday night. Restrictive provisions were placed in the ordinance, and the license fee was increased from $250 to $500 a year. E. E. Beasall, village clerk, said Thursday the ordinance will go into effect as soon as it is posted, and he expects to post it in a day or two.

The new ordinance provides that places where liquor is sold must close on Sunday and at 1 a.m. every business day. Dancing is forbidden in all places where liquor is sold. Only one establishment in the village is affected by the new ordinance, as only one license has thus far been issued since the prohibition laws were repealed.

The board passed the ordinance after some discussion. The vote was four to two in its favor.

David Reynolds of Woodson was a Thursday visitor in the city.

LUTHERAN LADIES MEET AT HOME OF MRS. A. H. UNLAND

Meredosia, June 7.—The Young Ladies' Bible class of St. John's Lutheran Sunday school held their regular monthly business meeting and social at the home of Mrs. A. H. Unland Monday evening. Games and contests were played during the social hour. At the close of the evening's entertainment dainty refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Miss Aljeane Unland.

Those present were Mrs. Oscar Nortrup, teacher of the class; Mrs. W. L. Duvendack, Mrs. Burton Chamberlain, Mrs. Howard Rhodes, Mrs. Harry Omman, Mrs. Dean Miller, Mrs. Raymond Scott and Misses Minnie Schroeder, Dorothy Schroeder, Gladys Unland, Louise Meier, Bernice Skinner, Alice Nolden and the two hostesses.

News Notes

Mrs. W. E. Nolden and daughters, Mrs. Melvin Shutl, Misses Alice and Patricia, and son, Edward; Miss Virginia Peters, Mrs. W. L. Duvendack motored to Carthage Monday morning where they attended the commencement exercises at the college for the class of 34.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Nunn left for Charleston, Mo., Tuesday. The former will be employed on lever work. F. J. Unland took Mr. and Mrs. Nunn to the above city.

Mr. John Peters and little daughter Jackie, are visiting at Salem with her mother, who is reported as being ill.

Miss Gladys Unland attended commencement exercises in Beardstown Thursday evening, her brother being in the graduating class of the high school this year.

Mrs. Nettie Freeland, son, Robert, and daughters, Marie and Betty, motored to Carthage Monday morning where they attended the commencement exercises at the college for the class of 34.

Members of the Sunday school of St. John's Lutheran church are planning a very interesting program for Children's day which will be given Sunday evening, June 17.

Miss Aljeane Unland left Tuesday evening for Chicago where she will visit her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Marcelle Hazel a couple of days and from there she will be employed on a large steamship on the Great Lakes during the summer months. Miss Bernice Skinner left Wednesday evening and will also be employed on the steamer for the summer.

The canners successfully fought to keep standards out of the code, which went through NRA without its receiving General Johnson's approval.

It was then that Tugwell went to bat at the White House. Roosevelt did one of the most remarkable things he had heard of under NRA when he overruled the protests of a major part of a big industry.

Canners are bitter against such government interference in business.

Roosevelt recognized a strong popular demand, however. He may or may not have heard that when the National Association of Retail Grocers recently questioned housewives as to whether they wanted government minimum standards stamped on cans labels, 96.6 per cent said they did.

Senator Copeland of New York was so upset at hearing that his son's wife had produced a baby girl that he wouldn't speak to anyone for a whole morning. He had yearned for a grandson who could be called Royal S. Copeland III.

Secretary Ickes probably is the hardest-working cabinet member, but also the most meticulous, exacting. For instance, he refuses to sign letters unless they have exactly four spaces between "yours truly" and his typewritten name. He has returned for re-copying every letter that had three or five.

President Thomas Girdler of the Republic Steel Co. regarded as the steel industry's toughest anti-union leader, recently said he would retire to his little apple farm before he would deal with President John Lewis or the miners and certain other A. F. of L. leaders. Some months previously Girdler had signed a "captive mine" union agreement with Lewis.

One of the top row debutantes here goes around telling her friends of the superior service and equipment of a certain large New York hotel. She is on the hotel payroll for doing just that.

This might be a healthy place for John Dillinger to come to—it might not. There's no law here requiring physicians to report cases of strange patients with bullet holes to be patched up. On the other hand, the local coppers claim to have solved all but four of the 218 murders committed here in the last three years. (Yes, that's right. We average six murders a month here).

BACK FROM U. OF I.

Miss Frances Griswold arrived home Wednesday from the University of Illinois, where she is an instructor in the English department to spend the summer vacation here.

To the Editor of the Journal and Courier:

Hollywood, Calif., June 7.—Glad to see the republican party honor Henry Fletcher, ex-ambassador to Italy. He is a very able man. They made him chairman of the republican national committee, course you got to use a little humor when you say its an honor to hand a man the republican party to run at this time. ## "NOT CONSTIPATED FOR SEVEN WEEKS"

Writes Mrs. Johnson After Using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Sufferers from constipation will be interested in this unsolicited letter:

"Your ALL-BRAN surely relieves constipation. I am so glad over the good it has done me that I feel I must write and tell you of it."

"For lunch I take a banana, a large one. Six tablespoons of ALL-BRAN in a sauce dish, and dip banana at each bite until all is consumed. I haven't been constipated now for seven weeks."—Mrs. Louise Johnson, 1433 Forest Street, Denver, Colorado.

Constipation often causes headache, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. This condition is usually due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further promote regular habits. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Eventually, it clears out the wastes.

Try ALL-BRAN in place of patent medicines—often harmful. Two tablespoons daily will overcome most types of constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Jerseyville, Ill., June 7.—Jerseyville relatives this week received word of the death of Mrs. Juanita Moore Boskey, former resident of this city, who was killed Sunday morning, June 3rd, by her husband Amit Boskey at their home in Memphis, Tennessee. After shooting his bride of four months, Boskey then shot himself.

Relatives of Mrs. Boskey in Jerseyville did not know of the couple's marriage until news of the tragedy was received here. According to accounts of the killing in Tennessee papers, jealousy was the motive of the double crime.

The tragedy took place about eleven twenty o'clock Sunday morning. Boskey fired four shots into the body of his wife as she lay across the bed in their home. Seating himself in a chair at the foot of the bed, he then fired the last bullet in the gun into his brain.

Mrs. Boskey was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. Moore of Jerseyville. She was born and raised in Jersey county but has resided in Memphis for the past twenty-three years. She was forty-two years of age at the time of her death. Her husband was an interior decorator.

Surviving Mrs. Boskey are four half brothers, Edward Moore of Jerseyville; John C. Adlesee, Memphis; Lloyd Moore of Brighton, Colorado, and Frank Moore of Corona, California; two half sisters, Mrs. Mary Neely, wife of Rev. W. S. Neely of Auburn, and Mrs. Emma Riges of California.

Funeral services were held in Memphis.

Warren

Mrs. Carrie S. Warren, eighty-six year old Jerseyville woman, died at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, June 6th at her home on East Exchange street. She was taken ill a week ago while attending a meeting of the Esther Bible class of the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Warren was born on a farm two miles southeast of Jerseyville, January 7, 1848. She was the daughter of the late Matthew C. Stanley and Elizabeth Armstrong Stanley, both members of pioneer Jersey county families.

She was married to Charles D. W. Warren, son of Honorable George E. Warren, first county judge of Jersey county and representative from this district. Her husband and one son, Charles E. Warren, predeceased her in death.

Surviving Mrs. Warren are her daughter, Miss Florence Warren with whom she made her home; two sisters, Nettie and Belle Stanley and two brothers, Edward and Douglas Stanley, all of Jerseyville.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

E.D. Martin Speaks at Kiwanis Meeting

During the last generation Americans have concentrated power more and more in the hands of the executive and more and more from the legislative, said Everett Dean Martin, director of the People's Institute, New York City, at the Thursday meeting of the Jacksonville Kiwanis club. If we lose our freedom it is our own fault, said Mr. Martin.

Roosevelt is not responsible for the changes that have occurred during his administration, said Mr. Martin. He can neither be blamed nor praised. The program instituted by the so-called brain trust and others is just a belated movement that has been on foot for some time.

There is less interest in politics in America than there has ever been, and an indication that we do not love liberty the way our fathers did. Americans apparently think more about baseball than they do government, judging from the amount of space given this sport in the newspapers as compared to government.

There has been a remarkable concentration of power in Washington, more and more is the country becoming regimented. More and more the American people depend on the government, and more and more will the people have to pay.

Announcement was made at the club that All Kiwanis night will be observed next Monday night by the Winchester club at Florence. A delegation of local clubmen will join in the observance. William Clark, local Boy Scout, made announcement of a campaign being planned to raise funds for the Scout program.

Guests at the club included George Schneider, Clarence Buckingham, Ben Lane, Robert Cassell and H. C. Jaquith, all of this city, and Arthur Ewart, Danville, and O. C. Smith, Decatur.

If you feel sour and sick and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and don't drink beer, coffee or whisky and be buoyant and full of sunshine.

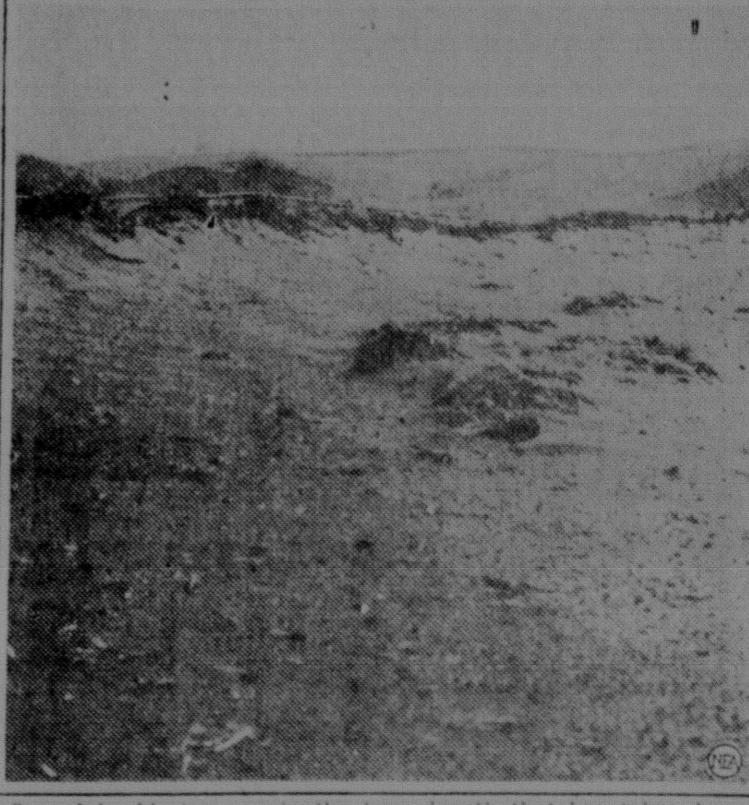

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere moment doesn't get at the cause of the trouble. You know what it is, it's the liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowel daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas, bloating, flatulence, stomachache. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches, you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile down free and make you feel up and up. They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

Wheat Field Once; Desert Now

Seared by blazing sun in the long drought that has taken huge toll in the midwest, and covered by several feet of sand whirled across it by high, scorching winds, this South Dakota wheat field looks like a stretch of desert land. Extent of damage wrought is indicated by the fence, which in places is entirely buried beneath the high-piled hillocks of sand, leaving a Herculean task of clearing it facing the farmer before he can plant another crop.

Banish Body Odor This New Odorless Way

Leaves No M. S. (Mildew)

It isn't the smell of a soap that gets you clean—it's the lather.

Ordinary toilet soaps don't lather freely enough in this hard water. They form a sticky soap-scum that works into the pores and dams up stale perspiration. Strong-smelling soaps—no matter how much they lather—can't keep a secret.

Kirk's Castile, being a 100% pure vegetable oil soap, lathers abundantly, even in hard, cold water. It goes deep into the pores, mixes with the stale perspiration curds and sets them free. In a twinkling your body is as fresh and clean-smelling as a woodland breeze!

"Simply Great for Our Hard Water"—says Peoria, Illinois, woman. Peoria water is 25 grains hard.

Try Kirk's Castile today. It's odorless. And half again longer than average toilet soaps—an exceptional bargain. Be sure to ask for Kirk's by name.

was lodged.

Friends in Virginia were notified and the ambulance was sent to the scene. Edward Neiderer, coroner of Mason county, of Havana, rushed to the scene with his ambulance and pulmotor.

The accident, which occurred about four o'clock Wednesday afternoon, brought more than a hundred friends of the victim to the river bank. Working into the night, friends lined up automobiles on the river bank and focused headlights on the swirling waters while workmen rowed back and forth across the hole where the body was lodged.

Newell was a graduate of the Chaddock Boys School at Quincy.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep... Vigor... Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys are the "MILES" of ring tubes that will help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with frequent bladder passage with scanty amount caused by birth control, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of haemorrhage, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up at night, pain in the feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and diseases.

If kidneys don't empty 2 blts every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, you may have kidney trouble causing serious trouble. It may knock you down and lay you up for many months. Don't wait.

Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS... a drug that has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "Kidney cures" that claim to "cure you up in 15 minutes" for they may seriously injure your delicate tissues. Instead of DOAN'S PILLS, take the new drug that contains no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Mulvaney Co.

"Big Jim" Weaver Pitches Shutout Baseball and Cubs Trounce Cardinals 1 to 0

St. Louis, June 7.—(P)—Big Jim Weaver, recently picked up by the Cubs when the Browns turned him back to Newark, pitched shutout ball today as Chicago won the series final from the Cardinals, 1 to 0, and made it two out of three for the series.

The Cubs, by winning yesterday and today, dropped the Cardinals from third to fourth position in the league standings behind New York, Chicago and Pittsburgh.

The Cubs scored the only run of the game in the third inning. Billy Herman opened with a single and advanced to third on infield outs by English and Klein. Babe Herman's single brought him home.

PIRATES TRIM REDLEGS 2 TO 1

Cincinnati, June 7.—(P)—Young Ted Kleinhan pitched a tight game for the Cincinnati Reds today, but "Red" Lucas shaded him and the Pittsburgh Pirates won again, 2 to 1.

The rookie, making his second start for the Reds, granted seven hits. Only one was for extra-bases, but that, Traynor's triple in the seventh, scored Paul Waner with the winning run. Lucas, meanwhile, held the Reds to a scant four blows.

A meeting of the managers of the teams planning to enter the YMCA "soft" ball league, are to meet on the Y. M. C. A. lawn, 423 W. State street tonight at 7:30 to make final arrangements for the first series which is to begin at once. Just how many teams will enter is still uncertain, but some fifteen teams have indicated an interest. Any other teams which are interested are invited to have their representatives at the meeting.

The games will probably all be played on the high school field. It is hoped to be able to have the games start at about 5:30, although some teams report that they will not be able to begin before 6 o'clock. It may be that the group will be divided into leagues in accordance with the hour when they will be able to start.

There will be no entry fee required from the teams, each team being responsible only for its own equipment, balls and bats. A 60 foot base line will be used instead of the 45 foot base of previous years. This will tend to speed up the games and make them somewhat more interesting.

Hundreds of Persons Attend Funeral Services Held Here For John J. Reeve Thursday

Hundreds of persons including relatives, church, lodge and political associates and many other friends paid tribute to the memory of Attorney John J. Reeve at impressive rites held at the Grace M. E. church yesterday afternoon. The services were in charge of Dr. F. A. Havighurst, pastor of the church, assisted by Dr. R. Parker.

Scripture selections at the service were read by Dr. Havighurst and prayer was offered by Dr. Parker. A solo was rendered by Mrs. William Barr Brown, and the Knights of Pythias had charge of services at the cemetery. Burial was in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Dr. Havighurst Speaks

In opening his address Dr. Havighurst said: "When the tragic news came to us on Tuesday morning that John J. Reeve had suddenly passed to his eternal reward, it came as a shock to the entire community. Indeed there was little for him to suffer. There was only a moment of dark and then the dawn of the larger day. But for his loved ones there was not time even for a last farewell. And yet shall we not learn to look upon his sudden and painless departing with resignation, faith and hope."

Using as his theme that classical address in philosophy, education and culture which has been called our "Intellectual Declaration of Independence" Mr. Martin spoke on "Emerson and the American Scholar."

Quoting from that famous address delivered in 1834, he said: "Perhaps the time is already come when the sluggish intellect of this continent will look from under its iron lids and fill the world with something better than unchanged skill . . . Men shall not for the sake of wider activity sacrifice any opinion to the popular judgments and modes of action . . . Free should the scholar be-free and brave. Free even to the definition of freedom, without any hindrance that does not arise out of his own constitution" . . . I believe man has been wronged; he has wronged himself. Men are become of no account. Men in history, men in the world of today are bugs, and are spawn, and are called the "mass and the herd" . . . Some great decorum, some fetish of a government, some ephemeral trade, or war, or man, is cried up by half mankind and cried down by the other half, as if all depended on this particular up or down.

The odds are that the whole question is not worth the poorest thought which the scholar has lost in listening to the controversy . . . The one thing in the world of value is the active soul . . . Let a single man plant himself indomitably in his instincts and there abide, the huge world will come round him . . . It is not the chief disgrace in the world not to be an unit—not to be reckoned one character—not to yield that peculiar character which each man was created to bear, but to be reckoned in the gross in the hundred, or the thousand, of the party, the section, to which we belong; and our opinion predicted geographically? Not so—please God, ours shall not be so. We will walk on our own feet, we will work with our own hands; we will speak our own minds . . . The dread of man and the love of man shall be a all of defense and a wreath of joy around all A nation of men will for the first time exist, because each believes himself inspired by the Divine Soul which also inspires all men."

Worship of Emerson

These words of Emerson spoken almost one hundred years ago were a life issue then and are still today. We have today a 19th century faith in the mythical powers of education.

There seems to be a growing faith in education that seems to make the masses of the 20th century turn back to Emerson's philosophy. Education today is in the hands of the psychologist instead of the philosopher. Mr. Martin pointed out examples of the psychologist plotting man's intellectual curves and then pled for a return of education to the right place—in the hands of the philosopher. He urged the audience to turn with no hope of a safe harbor on the other side. Mr. Reeve was too thoughtful not to have thought such things through. He had little warning but though the summons came suddenly it found him ready. Sorrowing friends bowing within the shadow today, you may be comforted by the sure hope of meeting again in that home beyond the skies the one whom you loved and lost awhile."

Mr. Martin. The great terror of man-

Confer With President on "Must" Bills

Just as Congress was preparing to adjourn, President Roosevelt, returning from his trip to New York, requested that Congress act on all major Administration proposals before the session ends. To determine just what the "must" bills are, Speaker of the House Henry T. Rainey (extreme right) and Representative Joseph W. Byrnes (wearing white hat at left), conferred with the President. They are shown at the White House after their conference.
